Description

This jacket is designed specifically for women and features long sleeves that provide coverage and protection in kitchen environments.

The crossover fastening with dummy buttons is a distinctive feature of this jacket. The buttons are available in a wide range of colours, allowing the garment to be customised to suit personal preference or restaurant style.

The semi-fitted design of the jacket includes darts on the chest and back for a better fit and a professional appearance.

The jacket is made from twill fabric, making it tough and durable, perfect for the hustle and bustle of the demanding kitchen environment. It is available in black or white, which are classic and versatile options.

It should be noted that the buttons are not included with the jacket, giving you the flexibility to select the buttons that best suit your personal style.

The NIZA women's kitchen jacket is an essential wardrobe staple for cooks and chefs looking for quality and style in their workwear. Its women's specific design, combined with the ability to customise the buttons, makes it a popular choice in the catering and hospitality industry.
