Description

The T400 women's chino trousers are made of twill, a high quality 100% polyester (PES) fabric. This choice of material not only ensures a durable garment, but also reflects your commitment to quality and attention to detail.

The T400 fibre, the protagonist of these trousers, offers crease-resistant properties. This means your outfit will look impeccable throughout your workday, allowing you to focus on what matters most.

T400 fibre also provides stretch and recovery characteristics, which translates into a pant that comfortably adapts to your movements while maintaining its shape.

In addition, T400 fibre is known for its exceptional breathability and antibacterial properties which are an added bonus in the hospitality industry where hygiene is essential.

Not to forget, the classic design of the T400 chino trousers for women makes them suitable for a variety of work situations. From interacting with customers with elegance to performing practical tasks, this garment is a manifestation of your commitment to excellence in the hospitality industry.
