Description

This jacket is made from MEETING fabric, which is 98% cotton and 2% elastane. The Meeting fabric is known for its durability and comfort, allowing the wearer to move with ease during long working days. In addition, the fabric offers a stylish and professional look.

The buttonholes on the sleeve cuffs and lapel of the jacket feature a striking burgundy colour, adding a touch of style and distinction to the garment. This contrasting design detail adds a touch of sophistication.

The blazer has one pocket on the inside of the right front and two pockets on the inside of the left front, one of which has a button. These pockets provide additional space to store personal items or work documents securely.

The front of the jacket is lined, which provides extra comfort and helps to maintain the shape of the garment.

The centre back seam and slits in the back of the jacket allow for greater mobility and comfort when walking. These details are essential for those who work in the hospitality industry and need to move around with ease.

The two-button design on the front closure adds versatility to the garment. The buttons are strategically placed to provide a snug fit and enhance the wearer's figure.
