Description

The blazer features a classic two-button design that fits the female figure, offering a modern and sophisticated look. The charcoal and red detailing adds a distinctive touch to the overall design.

Made from KNITSUIT fabric, which is composed of 56% cotton, 32% polyester and 12% wool, this blazer provides a perfect combination of comfort and durability.
The jacket has a full lining that enhances the garment's durability and provides greater comfort. This lining allows the garment to glide smoothly over other layers of clothing, preventing uncomfortable rubbing against the skin.

The lapel buttonholes, sleeve cuffs and front are detailed in charcoal, while the sleeve buttonholes are highlighted with an attractive red colour. The sleeve buttons are stitched with red thread, adding a touch of elegance and style.

The garment has an inside pocket on the left front with a buttonhole fastening and two inside pockets on the right front, one of which has a button. These pockets provide additional space for personal items or work tools.

This jacket is versatile and suitable for a variety of work environments, including hospitality, reception, transport, office and general retail.
