Description

GASTROCHEF unisex jacket, long sleeved, with mao collar, concealed press stud fastening (the first one visible) and pocket on left sleeve. Semi-fitted model.

Made with the opulence and luxury of 100% EGYPTIAN COTTON. This legendary material is the result of careful hand harvesting, which guarantees unparalleled quality. By being handpicked, the pressure on the fibres is reduced, resulting in a softer, stronger and more durable fabric. In addition, Egyptian cotton stands out for its ease of ironing and maintenance, allowing you to look impeccable even in the most dynamic kitchen environments.

The sides of the ANHUR jacket feature COOLMAX pique fabric panels, a feature that goes beyond aesthetics. This high-tech fabric is designed to regulate body temperature and manage moisture effectively. As you indulge in your culinary creativity, this technology works tirelessly to keep you cool and comfortable at all times.

It is ideal for cooks and chefs in hospitality, catering and general cooking.
