Description

GASTROCHEF unisex long-sleeved jacket with a shirt collar, central fastening with hidden press-studs and a pocket on the left sleeve. Semi fitted model.

Made with a structured twill composed of 50% cotton (CO), 48% polyester (PES) and 2% elastane (EA). This unique combination of materials offers not only a stylish look, but also durability that can withstand the demands of the professional kitchen. The structured twill ensures that the jacket not only stands out in style, but also stands the test of time.

With COOLMAX pique fabric panels strategically placed on the sleeves and back. These technical panels work tirelessly to regulate body temperature and manage moisture, giving you a feeling of freshness and comfort with every culinary movement.

It is ideal for cooks and chefs in hotels, restaurants and cooking in general.
