Description

The VIDAL men's kitchen jacket features a smart design with long sleeves, a mao collar, and a crossover fastening with concealed press studs. The mao collar adds a distinctive touch of style, while the turn-up cuffs add comfort and a secure fit.

It is made from 100% polyester microfibre, a high-performance fabric that is anti-bacterial, highly breathable, tolerant to splashes of bleach diluted in water and dries quickly. In addition, the microfibre is repellent to pet hair and fur, helping to maintain a fresh, clean appearance.

The inclusion of Aerosilver technical fabric on the back of the jacket provides breathability and helps maintain a hygienic environment by preventing the growth of bacteria and unpleasant odours.

This kitchen jacket is ideal for cooks and chefs in catering, restaurant and general kitchen environments.

This jacket is available in different models, including a short-sleeved version (reference 944200) and a women's version (reference 948500), allowing teams to maintain a uniform appearance in their workplace.
