Description

The RIVERA men's kitchen jacket features a short-sleeved design with a mao collar for a cool, modern look. The crossover fastening with concealed press studs adds a touch of elegance to the garment.

It is made of 100% polyester microfibre, a high-performance fabric that is anti-bacterial and highly breathable. It is also resistant to bleach splashes, washes easily at 90°, dries quickly and does not require ironing.

The inclusion of Aerosilver technical fabric on the back not only provides breathability, but also helps prevent the growth of bacteria and unpleasant odours, maintaining a hygienic environment in the kitchen.

This jacket is available in a long sleeve version (reference 944100) and a women's version (reference 948600), allowing teams to maintain a uniform appearance in the workplace.

This kitchen jacket combines style, comfort and performance in a garment designed to meet the needs of hospitality professionals.
