Description

The SERNA unisex kitchen jacket features a unisex design that suits all members of your team, regardless of gender. With its semi-fitted style and mao collar, this jacket provides a sophisticated and professional look for your staff.

The jacket is made of white twill, making it comfortable to wear for long days in the kitchen. Twill is known for its durability and wear resistance, ensuring that this garment will withstand the rigorous conditions of the kitchen. In addition, the jacket features AEROSILVER technical fabric on the sides, which offers anti-bacterial properties essential for maintaining a hygienic kitchen environment.

The SERNA jacket features a pocketless design, which prevents the accumulation of dirt and ensures a clean and neat appearance. Turn-up cuffs provide a secure and comfortable fit, while the concealed press stud fastening across the cuffs allows for quick and easy changing of the jacket.

Ideal for uniforms for cooks and chefs in catering, restaurant and kitchen environments, as well as for retail staff looking for a uniform that combines style and functionality. Also, this model is available in a version for women, reference 942200.
