Description

The unisex DANA jacket features long sleeves, turned-up cuffs and a crossover fastening with concealed press studs. The contrast collar and cuffs add a touch of elegance.

The semi-fitted design with darts on the chest and back darts provides an exceptional fit that enhances your figure, ensuring you look professional and stylish.

Made from high quality SARGA, this jacket is synonymous with comfort. Twill is known for its strength and durability, ensuring this garment can withstand the constant hustle and bustle of the hospitality industry.

Hidden press studs allow for quick and easy fastening, while the AEROSILVER technical fabric on the back adds an extra touch of comfort.

The DANA unisex kitchen jacket is available in black and white, allowing you to choose the option that best suits your style and the image of your establishment.

Ideal for uniforms for waitresses, cooks and chefs in catering, restaurants, and any kitchen environment in general.

Also available in a men's model (reference 944600) to keep your team looking uniform and professional on all occasions.

The DANA kitchen jacket combines style and professionalism in one garment. Whether in the dining room, the kitchen or in the management of your establishment, this jacket will make you stand out.
