Description

The jacket is designed with long sleeves that offer added protection for children while they engage in activities that can generate mess, such as cooking, painting or crafting.

The Mao collar is a stylish detail that adds authenticity to the jacket's design and provides comfort for children.

The crossover fastening with dummy buttons is easy to fasten and unfasten, allowing children to put the jacket on and take it off independently, encouraging autonomy.

This jacket is available in a variety of colours, allowing children to choose their favourite shade or adapt it to different activities or events.

In addition to the jacket, a matching apron and hat can be purchased to complete the chef's outfit, adding a playful and authentic element to children's learning and playing experience.

The white colour reference (950100) is a classic and versatile option to suit a wide variety of activities and events.
